PUBLISHER'S NOTE.

In September, 1898, The Ipswich Chronicle began publishing each week two columns of the Ancient Records of Ipswich. Soon after, it was suggested to the editor that the newspaper article should be put into pamphlet form and the suggestion was adopted it being the intention to issue the pamphlet quarterly. Owing to press of other business this was not done, but instead the entire amount of the records published the first year, taking in the period from 1634 to 1650, have been published in this book, Vol 1 of The Ipswich Records. Had it been the intention on the start to issue the records in book form, more care would have been taken with the work. The pages would have been numbered, the contents indexed, and the typographical appearance would have been more carefully looked after. In the succeeding Volumes, for we propose to continue the publication of these records, this will be done, and should the sales of Vol 1 give sufficient encouragement, we will at some time in the future reprint this first volume properly indexed and paged. By those who are interested in the early records of Ipswich, this first Volume, even in its present condition, will be warmly welcomed.

AGAWAM NAMED IPSWICH.

A Court holden at Newe Towne August 5th 1634.

It is ordered that Aggawam shalbe called Ipswich.

A true copy Ex^{md} pr. Thad^s Mason Depy. Secy.

The above is a true Copy from the Records of the General Court in my official custody and possession under the date of August 5th 1634.

I further certify that it appears by the records of that period, that it was usual to record all the proceedings of the Session under one date, viz: the day of the commencement of the same, without distinguishing the proceedings of each day; and that it cannot be determined therefore from the Records on what particular day of the month, of the week, or of the Session the above passed. But that the votes of the Session appear to be few in number, occupying only one page, and the Order passed respecting Ipswich, is the second recorded, making it probable that it was on the first day of the Session.

Attest Edward D. Bangs, Secy.

It is ordered, that whosoever shall leave any carrion undisposed of the space of 24 hours, whereby wolves may be drawn or people annoyed shall forfeit. 5s.

Whereas there is much complaint and a thing too evident, that diyers men when they repaire their fences, about the Towne streets in doing of it doe encroach upon the highways and what it is to remove the bounds, is not unknown, and besides its being a thing leading to comon prejudice,

The towne declareth that it shall be duly looked into for the rectyfying of what is past, and prevention of such evils for the future. It is further declared that whosoever have sett out his fence beyond the place formerly sett without the knowledge and approbation of the towne [] remove it not again [before the 1 28th of May) in [] the place where it did stand he shall further im [] into and the matter rroceeded in as the case shall require.
